- S1: Well good morning everyone. First of all, may I apologise for being late. Members of Parliament are late for everything. I used to be infuriated by it before I became of a Member of Parliament and then when I became a Member of Parliament I realised why we're late for everything, because we get double-booked in diaries and things like that. So I do apologise and let's crack on.
- S2: Sure, yeah. Yeah, my name is XX and I work for the XX. I've been with the Fund for about four years.
- S1: Thank you.
- S3: My name's XX and I'm working with the XX Foundation.
- S4: Hi, I'm XX, I work as a Health Policy Advisor with XX , more recently on health policy and research.
- S1: Well thank you very much indeed. So when we're asking questions as the members of the committee are the witnesses going to just choose who responds and...?
- S2: Yeah, that's –
- S1: That's great. So we have a fairly free-flowing discussion about it, that's excellent.
